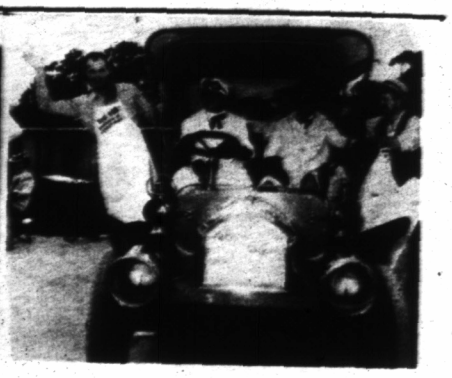
The afternoon program will be at the Monterey High School Stadium on Larkin Street, from 1:15 to 5:15, while the evening dancing will be at the Soldiers Club, Fort Ord, from 7:15 to 10:00 o'clock.



HARRIET DUNCAN SCORES IN "FASHION FIESTA" SHOW AT CARMEL VALLEY COUNTRY CLUB

Set off by the gay country club resort atmosphere abounding at the Carmel Valley Country Club, a bevy of twenty-four lovely mesdames and misses displayed the fashions of Harriet Duncan in a continuous parade across the rock terraces overlooking the swimming pool of this newest Carmel Valley fun spot.

Starting off with cocktails in the Old San Francisco Room, and a buffet luncheon of sesame chicken served in the club's Panorama Room overlooking acres of trees and rolling hills, a large crowd filled the outdoor tables of the upper terrace promenade, where the models strolled in a dazzling hour and a half long display of summer plumage.

Commentating her own show with charm and wit, Miss Duncan presented her models in a wide variety of costumes, ranging through bright beach and sportswear, smart cotton casuals, on to sheer nylons, rayon jerseys, crisp linens and failles for round-the-clock wear. Music played from the terrace by an electric organ, loaned for the occasion by the Graham Music Co., lent a pleasant background for lunching and spectating.

Upon entering the Club, each woman was presented with a corsage from Lorraine Hansen's Village Flowers, whose floral decorations added color to the occasion.

Attending from Pebble Beach was Alton Walker and party, who drove up in a scintillating red 1904 Buick onto the promenade and parked it there to become a principal pre-show attraction. Male members of the party were rigged up in touring dusters, while the women wore turn-of-the-century costumes right out of a long gone Easter parade. They were particularly picturesque in the Barbary Coast atmosphere of the Old San Francisco Room where "Little Bob" Mills and his staff also wore Gay Nineties costumes.

The fashion show, despite the 86 different fashions on review, never lagged a moment under Miss Duncan's expert direction.

Striking as a model was Mrs. Jack Dalziel, wearing a blue and white checked jacket and moygashel linen skirt (crease resistant) and flame blouse. Lovely member of the college set, Sali Dalton, drew admiring attention with her copper color White Stag jeans, as did the other younger models in their White Stag playclothes. Glamour, too, had its hour in the chic "Stardust" and "Invitation to Dance" models shown by Mrs. Dale Schermerhorn and Misses Helen Prosser, Jackie Wakefield, and Shelagh Scoville, proving the summer fun clothes can be sophisticated and comfortable at the same time. The compactness of modern traveling clothes was demonstrated by Miss Duncan herself who, like a magician, pulled nearly a dozen nylon items from a small handbag.

Among Miss Duncan's attractive models were Mrs. Howard Lockwood, Miss Joan Kempen, Miss Shelagh Scoville, Miss Jean Hallett, Mrs. Ted Fielding, Mrs. Phyllis Carter, Miss Dale Dawson, Mrs. Dale Schermerhorn, Miss Helen Prosser, Miss Lois Whetstone, Mrs. Jack Dalziel, Mrs. Douglas Bradburn, Mrs. Dudley Nix, Miss Kathleen Whittaker, Miss Ann Hodgson, Miss Pat Boylan, Miss Barbara Berg, Mrs. Mary Jane Wolter, Mrs. Parker Kimball, Mrs. Leatrice Jones, Mrs. Lawrence Wakefield, Miss Barbara Horne, Miss Diana Horne, Miss Mary Eleanor Horne, Miss Sali Dalton, and Miss Barbara Ann May.

What Do You Say ?

SHOULD EACH STATE HAVE AN OFFICIAL DOG?
(What breed for California..?)

POLAROID One-Minute Photographs

MISS TRUDY POSTON: "Well, I think having a Dalmatian would be nice. And I wish people would quit calling us 'Damnations'."

MISS T. V. GOULD: "Young man, of course there should be a state dog! As anyone can see, the world is fortunately going to us dogs. It's about time we were officially recognized."

TOBY AYRES: "Well, now, mister, if you ask me, I think it's all a matter of politics anyway. Examining the situation thoroughly, I can't see it makes any difference. The administration will change and then..."

FATIMA JONES: "I think it's silly."

BIG CIRCULATION CONTEST CLOSES TONIGHT

THIS IS THE DAY when work stops--at 8 o'clock tonight, Friday, May 18, 1951--in the Carmel SPECTATOR's great Circulation-Travel Club, and the judges who have consented to count the final votes will take charge of the ballot box. This box has been locked for the past three days, and the subscriptions placed therein will be counted by the judges, together with the reserve votes many of the candidates have.

Since the beginning of the campaign, club members have been allowed to reserve part of their bonus votes in order that no one might know the exact standing of any other candidate. The large totals will doubtless surprise everyone, when published in next week's SPECTATOR.

CLOSING RULES

Club Members must be in the SPECTATOR OFFICE by 8 P.M., FRIDAY, MAY 18, with their final subscriptions, as the judges will take charge of the ballot box soon after 8:00, and all subscriptions must be in the ballot box at that time.

Extended subscriptions may still be turned in and candidates will receive the difference in votes. Subscribers may still extend their subscriptions at the campaign-reduced rates. $2.00 will give a subscriber two years to the SPECTATOR if he has already paid one year to a club member, and $3.50 will give him two additional years, if one year has been paid for in the contest. If one has paid $5.50 in the contest for two years, he may pay $1.50 more and receive an additional year, making three years--and the club member gets the difference in votes.

The awards will be made at the SPECTATOR office at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 19, 1951. But, if they wish, candidates may come to, or call, the SPECTATOR around 10 p.m., Friday, and if the count has been completed the winners will be announced, at that time.

THE JUDGES

John Abernethy, manager, Carmel Branch Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank, Arne Halle, manager, Bank of Carmel, and Mrs. Nora Law, Carmel clubwoman, all well known and prominent in Carmel, and none of whom are personally interested in the campaign, will act as judges. Candidates can be assured that their interests are safe in these trustworthy hands.

All who fail to receive an award will be paid 50¢ for each subscription they have turned in, and may call at the SPECTATOR OFFICE on Seventh Street at 10 A.M., Saturday, or any time after that time.

Heretofore, the standings have been for each week only, but the standing this week is for the entire campaign and gives the approximate final standing.

However, the last three days' work may change the whole lineup, as many club members are so close together that one day's successful work may make all the difference in the final outcome. It is up to the club members and their friends...the SPECTATOR has no favorites.

Still holding first place is Miss Barbara Ann May, with Miss Louise Harber, second.

Miss Susan Kay and Miss Peggy Glaser of Pebble Beach are the two leaders in that district, and Grant Risdon of Carmel Valley is still leading District Three, with Mrs. Homer Lovejoy of Pacific Grove second contender for the prizes in that district.

ARMED FORCES DAY TOMORROW

Monterey Peninsula residents, along with Army, Navy and Coast Guard personnel, officially will launch the national observance of Armed Forces Day with a pre-event dinner tonight (Friday) at the Navy Line School, in Monterey.

Civilian and military leaders, under the auspices of Chambers of Commerce in the Bay Area, will dine and dance at the former Del Monte Hotel, inaugurating the national observance of Armed Forces Day, on Saturday, May 19.

From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Fort Ord, the Line School, Navy Auxiliary Air Station, Naval Reserve and Coast Guard will be host to thousands of persons from many miles around.

There will be graphic examples and demonstrations on training and duties that are making members of all Services team-mates in the nation's fighting forces. Theme for this year's Armed Forces Day is "Defenders of Freedom." The entire observance is designed to show how all the Services...Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force... are joining together to lead the fight against aggression.

FORT ORD ACTIVITIES

Fort Ord will stage a full day of activities, including actual firing of weapons used in Infantry training.

Displays will include Medical, Quartermaster, Signal, Engineer, Automotive, Weapons, Army Language School and Food Service.

There will be hour-long bus tours of the high spots on the 22,000-acre military reservation. Lunch will be available in five mess halls, as well as at the Service Club and snack bar. Two baseball games will be played... one at 9 a.m., another at 1:30 p.m. Continuous movies will be shown throughout the day.

A concert by the 6th Infantry Division Band also is among the events featured. It will be in the Display area from 10 to 11:45 a.m. There will also be an impressive Retreat Formation, including a colorful regimental parade. A reviewing stand is available for a good view of the ceremony, scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

U.S. NAVAL SCHOOL GENERAL LINE

An intensive array of equipment used in training Naval personnel will be shown at the Line School from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Department of Engineering and Damage Control will exhibit a ship stability demonstration. Also to be displayed are radiological safety charts and equipment, including Geiger counters, used following atomic explosions.

The Steam Engineering Department will display model fire-rooms and engine rooms of naval ships.

From the Ordnance and Gunnery Department will be cutaway models of 20 mm and .50 caliber machine guns, a rocket launcher, various types of naval bombs, shells and ammunition, a radio-controlled guided bomb, a radio-controlled target drone, and fire control models.

The Seamanship and Navigation Department will exhibit models depicting lights carried by naval vessels at sea, procedures for fueling at sea, ship forcastles with anchors and deck gear, star-finders, for navigation.

A radar screen and radio receivers with oscilloscopes will be shown by the Department of Strategy and Tactics.

The Aerological Engineering School will exhibit several large showcase models of various types of weather and cloud formations.

NAVAL RESERVE COAST GUARD

The U.S. Naval Reserve and the Coast Guard will be hosts to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Armed Forces Day. Both the Armory on Lighthouse Avenue in Monterey, and the Point Pinos Lighthouse in Pacific Grove will be open.

At the Armory, weapons, radio, radar, rescue craft and other technical equipment used in training and actual operations will be readied for inspection.

An 83-foot boat and a high-speed craft, both part of the Coast Guard equipment, as well as the three-inch gun and the rocket launcher are included in the displays at the Armory.

The 100-year-old lighthouse in Pacific Grove, which still uses the original lens and lantern, and helps guide shipping along this section of the West Coast, will be open. The light was established in 1854 and has operated continuously since then.

NAVY AUXILIARY AIR STATION

Carrier and land based aircraft, including jets, will be among the highlights at the Armed Forces Day open house at the Navy Auxiliary Air Station in Monterey. Plans call for a jet-assisted take-off, a fire-fighting-rescue demonstration, as well as numerous displays of equipment used in flying and training.

Open house will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The fire fighting demonstrations are scheduled for 11:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

COUNTY FAIR LOOKING FOR TALENT

Outstanding entertainment at the Monterey County Fair has been assured this year, according to Mrs. Elmarie Dyke, chairman of the entertainment committee, by the fact that many service clubs and other organizations have indicated that they would sponsor excellent entertainment.

Mrs. Dyke explained that as far as possible local talent will be used and urges all groups or individuals who know of good local talent, residing in any of the five counties represented in the 7th District Agricultural Association--Monterey, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Benito, and San Luis Obispo--to advise her: c/o Monterey County Fair, Box 1151, Monterey.

The dates of the Monterey County Fair are August 16, 17, 18, and 19.

FIESTA DE LAS MONJAS
(Feast of the Nuns)

By JANE DARK

The folk dancers were strutting their stuff in full fig when we strolled into the Carmel Mission quadrangle to learn at first hand what success the Catholic groups were having with their first annual Fiesta de las Monjas. Two groups of folk dancers, one from the USO under the supervision of David Crookston, and the other from the Carmel High School Adult group, under direction of Sterling Hall, were present.

Earlier, the Edgertons, Win and Ed, had been seen in a solo dance, "La Burrita," an amusing little whimsey about a reluctant mule. Still earlier in the afternoon the children of the school covered themselves with glory in a program of dances ending up with the Maypole dance, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Dean, aided and abetted by two of the Sisters. Incidentally, the black-robed nuns were flitting about the enclosure, smiling and happy, and apparently enjoying everything to the full.

A tired but radiant Irene Sieve, in a becoming Spanish costume, the long skirt covering feet comfortably encased in bedroom slippers, greeted me at the door of the cafeteria. "I had to give up my heels hours ago," said Mrs. Sieve, who stage-managed the entire affair. "We've fed nearly 600 people and we worked all day yesterday preparing the food. But we have had such wonderful cooperation from everybody--beginning with that splendid special supplement your paper, The SPECTATOR, got out. Truly, I believe what Father O'Connell is always saying, that the Mission occupies a unique and beloved place in the heart of Carmel and the Peninsula. Do you know that Micaela du Casse sold nearly 200 of Bill O'Malley's book, 'Two Little Nuns', and we have had to take orders for more? Mrs. McCormick's white elephant booth did a land office business--and Mrs. Kenneth White's hot dog stand and coke bar worked overtime.

"I do want to thank especially Lyn Hodges, who sent us three ponies, and Mr. and Mrs. Enos Fouratt who took over the riding and managed it so beautifully--not the slightest casualty and the youngsters had a marvelous time taking rides. In fact, I want to thank everybody who cooperated so generously to make this first Fiesta a grand success."

One reason for Mrs. Sieve's happiness was the tribute husband Frank J. Sieve and son Joseph paid her as a Mother's Day offering. Mr. Sieve, assisted by Mr. Joseph McCloskey, ran the Country Store into the biggest money-maker of the day, with the exception of the Cafeteria. Son Joe took over the little yellow popcorn wagon, generously contributed by Quigley Motor Co., and gathered in a lot of shekels as he wove in and out of the crowds.

Others who contributed to the success of the day were Dr. Wm. Coughlin, a superlative master of ceremonies, Shelburn Robison, Walter Tanous, Roman Neumann, Bill Woolsey, and the many women of the Catholic Daughters, the Mothers Club and the Altar Society, who gave their entire time for two whole days.

A good-sized cheque will be presented to Sister Superior to be divided among her teaching staff in an appropriate ceremony, some day during the week.

VOTE TODAY

The election to fill two places on the Carmel School Board is being held today. For the two vacancies there are four candidates.

There will be many important decisions regarding your schools and your taxes that will come before this new School Board. It is the duty of Carmel residents to vote in this election.

In case you have not had time to weigh the qualifications of the four candidates--and for what our suggestion is worth--we urge you to support Gunnar Norberg and Mrs. Julian Von Meier for the two vacancies.

Mrs. Von Meier is a mother, a grandmother and a widow. She has always maintained an active interest in schools and other civic affairs, and we believe her viewpoint and interest will be of value to the School Board.

Mr. Norberg has been actively identified with civic matters and we feel that he has the best interests of our town at heart. His intelligent appraisal in the matter of school bond issues should help solve this problem in the minds of many voters.

SCHOLARSHIP CARNIVAL CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL

The following has been received from Carmel High students. It concerns the Scholarship Carnival, May 26. We particularly call your attention to the last sentence. They want our support--let's give it to them.

We, the students of Carmel High School, guarantee you a fun-packed day at the Scholarship Carnival which will be held on the CHS campus, May 26, from 12:00 noon until 11:30 p.m. There will be lots of entertainment booths which will include a baseball throw, games of skill, grab bags, penny pitches, and food booths, which, among other things, will provide hot dogs, do-nuts and coffee, which will be served at gayly-colored umbrella tables, and icecream and home-made candy.

For the "frosting on the cake," the height of the Carnival's entertainment, there will be a student variety show, exhibition folk dancing arranged by Mr. Decker of Carmel, and a Carnival Dance which will feature "liltin' Martha Tilton" and her accompanist.

All proceeds will go to the scholarship fund which will help to send one senior boy and one senior girl to college this year! The students of Carmel High School would appreciate tremendously the whole-hearted support of the town on May 26, and we promise that you will thoroughly enjoy it.

STAMP CLUB

The Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club will meet next Monday at 8 P.M. at the Sunset School.

Captain Edgar Titus of Ord Terrace will speak and show his collection of stamps.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB

The Carmel Woman's Club will meet next Monday (May 21) at 2 P.M. The Book Section will be in charge of the meeting and will present Henry Mead Williams, well known author of Carmel. The subject of Mr. Williams' talk will be "Behind the Scenes with the Editor."

EUROPEAN ROAD RACES SLATED FOR PEBBLE BEACH

European road racing--the most rapid amateur land sport and one of the world's fastest growing spectator events--will be seen at its best at Pebble Beach on Sunday, May 27.

The country's most skillful drivers are coming from as far distances as Chicago and Florida to pit their expensive foreign and American sports cars against disaster on the screaming straight-away runs and hazardous grapevine turns on Del Monte Peninsula's 17-Mile Drive.

Races will be run on a closed circuit paved course 2.4 miles long including right, left and chicanne turns and downhills runs, where cars will be exceeding 125 miles per hour before screeching brakes negotiate turns that only the best drivers can manage at 30 miles per hour.

A national event comparable to the few famous races run each year in France and Italy, the Pebble Beach Classic is sponsored by the Sports Car Club of America, Inc. General chairman for the race is Kjell Qvale of San Francisco. Cars eligible to compete full running equipment, such as seats for two, lights, starters, spare tires, fenders and windscreens. Track racing cars, such as run on Indianapolis, are not safe for this kind of road driving at high speeds.

The cars competing will include English Jaguar XK 120 Super Sports, the world's fastest stock car, other English types, including the famous little MG, Allards (most of which are using Cadillac or Ford engines) Riley, Fraser-Nash (using German-type engines) Italian Ferrari and Alfa Romeo, French-built Bugatti's, and American Crosley Hot Shot and specially-built sports cars, including the Cannon and Edwards' Special. Prices on the largest, fastest cars run about $15,000.

Speeds on the three-quarter mile long straight of 120-130 m.p.h. will be common and lap speeds will average close to 70 miles per hour for the whole circuit despite the 110 degree switchback turns and reverse-bank bends. This is only possible for these highly maneuverable sports cars with their almost phenomenal acceleration.

All fuels used are standard premium pump fuels identical with those used in the family sedan.

The only prizes awarded will be Trophies and all net profit from the races will be donated to charity in compliance with Sports Car Club rules.

One of the most colorful events--the Concours d'Elegance, will be held Sunday, May 27, in front of the most beautiful specially built and equipped, and the best preserved vintage, American cars will receive prizes. Judging is conducted on the beauty of design, standard of maintenance and preservation of the vehicles. Points are also awarded, however, on the beauty and costume of the one feminine passenger allowed in each car.

Saturday, May 26, will be devoted to practice and qualifying runs. The Concours d'Elegance will be held on Sunday at 10:30 a.m., and the first of three races scheduled will begin at 12 noon.

Del Monte Properties, Inc., which owns Del Monte Lodge and the property on which the races will be run, has wired the entire course for sound, so that all spectators may hear the announcer, Reeder Butterfield, although they may, at the time, be watching the action on their favorite turn.

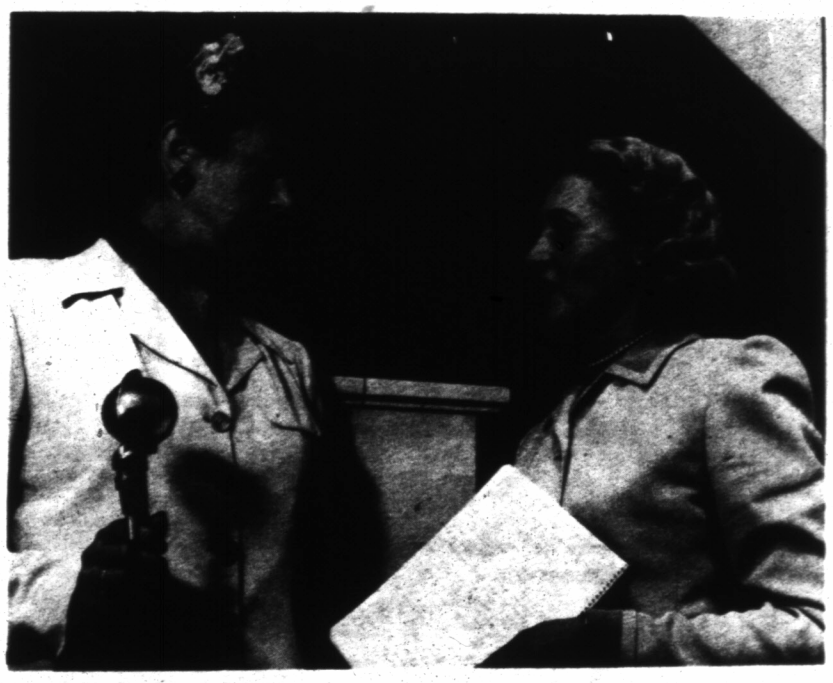
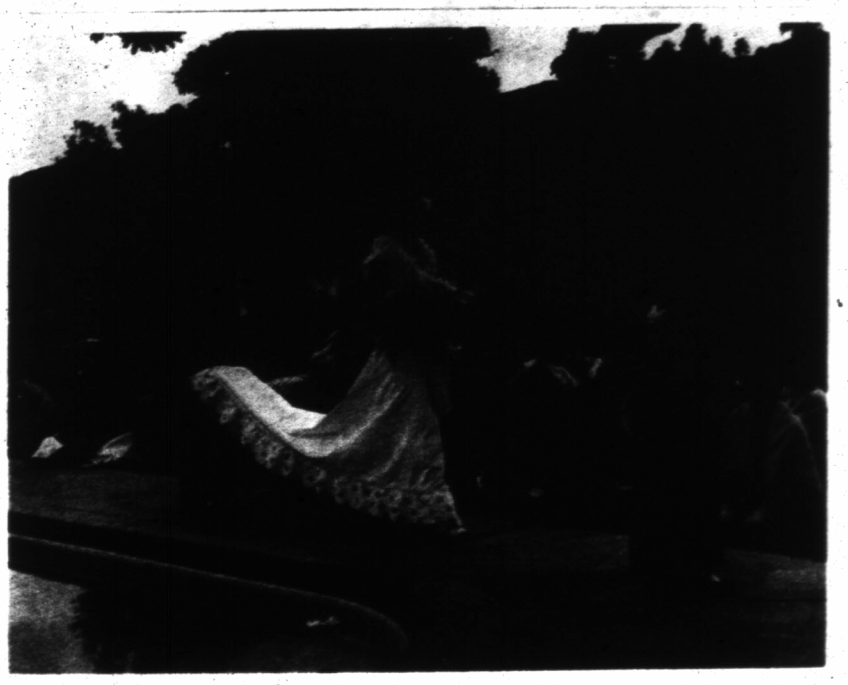
ELL THE STORY





THE RANCHO DEL MONTE COUNTRY CLUB, in Carmel Valley, was the scene of much activity last Sunday, as hundreds of residents of the Carmel area traveled out to witness and take part in the annual Gardenia Day at the Club. 3000 gardenias, flown in from Hawaii, transformed the pool into a veritable South Sea paradise.

A luncheon and fashion show were the main attractions. In photographs above (1) Mrs. Milton Marquard, co-owner of the Club, turns the mike over to Edith Morrison, who acted as emcee for the fashion show; (2) Mrs. T. J. Reynolds, of Salinas, and Lindy Conlan, model in yellow wool gabardine, pique collar and cuffs, made to order by Mrs. Conlan; (3) The finale of the fashion show featured an authentic Hawaiian wedding scene. In the photograph shown portraying a bride is Mrs. Barbara Hale, in a white cotton gown with white gardenia lei. In the foreground the flower girls are Sherie Conlan and her sister, Lindy. IN GAY RECOLLECTION of their former duty in the Hawaiian Islands, the students of Section B-6 of the Navy General Line School gathered for a festive "Lei Day" celebration in the Copper Cup Room of the Naval School's Officers' Club. ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S

WHO IS IT?

If the way to a man's heart is through his stomach and to a lady's is through her eye, then our this week's "Who Is Its?" the Grandfields, have the situation well under control. The Tuck Box with its real English dishes--Yorkshire pudding and such, made by an expert and after an old family recipe--takes care of the stomach department, and the flowers across the street at The Picadilly Flower Shop take care of the eye.

Although Mrs. Grandfield confesses that she never even knew which end of a measuring spoon to take hold of before coming to this country, a secret desire to run a tearoom of her own persisted until she had not only learned how to cook, under the expert guidance of Marjorie Jenkins, well-known culinary artist, but had found herself a tea room to run. Together the Grandfields served tea and scones and other delectables--until Mr. Grandfield's secret desire had its chance to "blossom." Having been interested in flowers from childhood when he learned much about them from his father, a fellow of the Royal Horticultural Society, he realized his dream by opening the little flower shop almost directly across the road from his wife's tea room.

Although born and brought up in England, the Grandfields are American citizens, and have been residents of this country ever since World War I, in which Mr. Grandfield saw service in France, Togoland, the Cameroons, Nigeria, and Tanganyika with the Honourable Artillery Company, whose Captain General is the King of England. This regiment--the oldest volunteer regiment in the world--has had among its ranks such notables as Samuel Pepys of "Diary" fame, and it is the only military group privileged to march on American soil with fixed bayonets and colors flying. Its American counterpart is the Ancient and Honourable Artillery of Boston, Massachusetts.

Mr. Grandfield was also part of another "institution" of fame--Baring Brothers Ltd., an old-time bank mentioned in Dickens' novels--where silk hat, frock coat, and quill pens are daily fare. Banking had not the attraction of the out-of-doors, however, and so it was a ranch in southern California when first the family came to America. And Mrs. Grandfield got "her hand in" in charge of a school cafeteria, in Inglewood, serving a thousand children a day. It was while there that her "basic lunch for schools was approved by the federal government and put into effect in the Inglewood schools.

Hobbies? Mr. Grandfield's is tropical fish, of which he owned 200 varieties at one time, and wood carving. Mrs. Grandfield's is still "cooking better than her mother did." Together, they enjoy tripping over the weekends. And, on every "first night" you will always find them in the front row!

WHAT'S AT THE HILL?

Two imported films of unusual interest and two favorites of the past are to play the Hill Theater this week.

Tonight (Friday) and Saturday, the much-loved "You Can't Take It With You," filmed in 1938, occupies the Hill screen. The stars are Jean Arthur (now resting in Carmel after her strenuous Broadway run in "Peter Pan"), James Stewart, and Lionel Barrymore.

Noel Coward's "The Astonished Heart," in which the master himself plays opposite Celia Johnson, shares the bill Sunday and Monday with the Australian epic, "The Overlanders," one of the few films to have brought a rave review from the New Yorker critic in recent years.

Jean Renoir's last French film, "Rules of the Game" (La Regle du Jeu), banned by Vichy for alleged "immorality," will show at the Hill Tuesday through Thursday, with a short film of Toscanini. The Renoir opus, using a sexual symbolology to depict the crackup of French society in 1939, is a deeply savage satire comparable to Chaplin's "M. Verdoux."

ATOMIC DEFENSE EXHIBIT FEATURE AT NAVY SCHOOL

What an atomic bomb can do, and what you can do about an atomic bomb!

The answers to these questions can be found in the Atomic Defense Exhibit that will be open to the public on Armed Forces Day, Saturday, May 19, at the U.S. Naval School, Monterey.

The exhibit is part of the display to be given during Open House from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Armed Forces Day, and the public has been invited to attend by Captain Thomas J. Casey, Commanding Officer of the Naval School.

The atomic exhibit is being arranged by the instructors in Radiological Safety, which is part of the curriculum of the Naval School to teach naval officers how to cope with atomic bombs in naval warfare in the future.

Included in the exhibit will be large posters depicting various types of atomic bomb bursts, the effect of an atom bomb on the San Francisco Bay area, damage that will result from an air burst, and various types of atomic explosion phenomena.

Also on display will be Geiger counters, pocket dosimeters and various other instruments for measuring the strength of atomic radiation.

NEW PRINTING PRINTING

Not in the immediate future but probably before many more years have elapsed the laborious mechanical chore of newspaper printing seems sure to be simplified to a marked degree.

An electric typewriter has been invented and was recently displayed to the American Newspaper Publisher's Association which eliminates all type, typesetters, linotype machines and much other costly equipment now necessary to the printing of newspapers.

The typewriter attached to an apparatus about twice the size of the family refrigerator permits a wide variation in size and style of type and turns out a photographic film from which an engraved plate can be made for the printing.

The new device gives promise of lower newspaper production costs--something that would be most welcome in these days when many publications are being forced out of business because of such costs.

DEPENDENTS MAY HAVE S.S. BENEFITS

Surviving dependents of deceased veterans on the Monterey Peninsula should be sure to look into the former serviceman's Social Security status, particularly if any children are involved, according to Claude S. Estill, Veterans Service Officer.

Although the latest amendments to the Federal Social Security law have been in effect for several months now, Mr. Estill reported that cases are continually coming to light in which the widow and children of a deceased veteran have been missing out on payments simply because they had no knowledge of the benefits which now exist.

The 1950 changes in the law had the effect of crediting anyone who served 90 days or more in World War II (unless discharged earlier by reason of service-incurred disability) with wage credits of $160 a month under the Social Security Act. These service wage credits, either alone or when combined with other credits resulting from private employment before or after service, may mean that the veteran had insured status under the law, which would entitle his surviving dependents to immediate Social Security payments.

Explanatory literature and other information have been made available to Veterans Service Office by the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance of the Federal Security Agency for the benefits of veterans and their dependents.
